

What Became of "Fritz" Pollard?

Fred "Fritz" Pollard, brother of Mrs. Artie P. McGavock of the McGavock Sunshine Nursing home—the Roger Park lad who became the first Negro All-American football player ever picked by Walter Camp. That was in 1916, when Fritz hit the headlines as star left halfback at Brown University. On successive Saturdays, the Lane Tech grad scored all Brown's points against all-powerful Yale and Harvard, leading his team to victories. He has since been voted into football's Hall of Fame.

Today at 64, Fritz, Sr., heads the public relations firm of Fritz Pollard Associates, Inc., New York City. He commutes to his home in New Rochelle, N. Y. His son, Fritz, Jr., Senn High grad, won renown as an Olympic hurdler and star footballer at North Dakota University. Fritz Jr. is deputy director of the Chicago Commission on Human Relations.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Ivory Gladney having taken over the spot formerly called

...and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—(St. John 6, 37.)

Sometimes, for reasons that we vainly try to justify, we look upon another human being with distaste or contempt. Then we should remember the abounding compassion of the Lord Jesus Christ, and humbly pray for His forgiveness
